Q: Define shadow to parent in react component I want to have a shadow in my React component but I can't seem to get it working. Here's what I've tried: Main title The description and .text { font-size: 20px; box-shadow: 0 1px 5px rgba(0,0,0,0.12); } .text__title { margin-bottom: 2px; color: #f00; } .text__description { color: #666; } .text__title { margin-bottom: 2px; color: #f00; } .text__description { color: #666; } I've tried to define styles for the parent component and styles for the child components and then reference the child component styles from the parent component. I think the problem is that I don't know how to position the shadow to the parent. How can I accomplish this? A: You have to use the CSS property border-radius, like this .text { font-size: 20px; padding-top: 20px; padding-bottom: 20px; margin-top: 20px; margin-bottom: 20px; border-radius: 10px; border: 2px solid black; background: black; color: #f00; } .text__title { margin-bottom: 2px; color: #f00; } .text__description { color: #666; } .text__title { margin-bottom: 2px; color: #f00; } .text__description { color: #666; }

The Tennessee Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the state Department of Human Services cannot enforce a ban on minors engaging in sexual activity on State Park camping sites. The Court ruled that the ban on minors engaging in sexual activity violates the Equal Protection Clause of the state Constitution because it treats those who are under the age of 18 differently than those over the age of 18. It also found that the ban was vague and arbitrary because there was no way for counselors or volunteers to know if a minor was actually engaging in sexual activity. According to the health department, public parks would have to implement age verification systems. This would include asking for a minor's birthdate, proof of age and photo identification. Campers would be able to use a credit card or
