Adjusting the Basic Image If you've worked with other image editing programs, the process of adjusting the basic image in Photoshop is similar. You can create a layer or group of layers that you can then apply various effects or adjustments, either to the overall image, the layer, or both. Figure 3-3 provides an example of using a layer to mask a spot on the image. FIGURE 3-3: Adding a layer mask enables you to hide a section of an image. To create a layer to mask an object in an image, follow these steps: 1. Place the cursor over the image area that you want to modify. For example, if the spot that you want to mask is on the face of the model, put the cursor over the model's face. 2. Press Ctrl+T (the keyboard shortcut for the Create a New Layer command). Photoshop opens a panel, as shown in Figure 3-4. FIGURE 3-4: Photoshop opens the Create a New Layer dialog box, where you can select the type of layer you want to create. 3. In the Create a New Layer dialog box, shown in Figure 3-4, *choose Layers from the

In the field of mobile communication, it is expected that the future number of subscribers will increase more and more. This has given rise to the need for accommodating a larger number of subscribers in a wireless system. A variety of approaches have been made for assuring such a larger number of subscribers. One approach is to divide a cell into three sectors each having a different code and providing different communication channels using the code division multiple access (CDMA) system. Another approach is to employ two pairs of base stations having four antennas instead of two pairs of base stations having two antennas to ensure communication in a cell. Another approach is the use of a high gain antenna. A high gain antenna is an antenna having a high directivity, such that an area with an acceptable level of SINR can be narrowed. In the conventional technique, a high gain antenna is very expensive and the gain thereof decreases exponentially if the mounting position of the high gain antenna is not appropriate. Recently, the use of an array antenna as a high gain antenna has been under consideration. In a so-called multi-sector/multi-input/multi-output (MS/MIMO) technique, a number of antennas are provided to a base station and the antennas are used to carry out sector division in a cell, to provide a plurality of beams, to use a space multiplexing effect, etc. With a high gain antenna having a high directivity, the number of antennas becomes large and the size of the antenna becomes large. This does not fit well with the trend to provide an antenna that is small in size. On the other hand, a narrow beam antenna can be realized by arranging a plurality of antennas. It is to be noted here that, although the present invention is described on the basis of the above example, a narrow beam antenna has an identical principle in the field of wideband and high-rate wireless communication. The present invention relates to a new and distinct cultivar of Veronica plant botanically known as Veronica hybrida and hereinafter referred to by the cultivar name 'Balmagnifica'. The new cultivar is the product of a planned breeding program conducted by the inventor in Enkhuizen, Netherlands. The new cultivar 'Balmagnifica' is characterized by its compact growth habit, compact flowering stems, light salmon-colored foliage, and white-colored flowers. 'Balmagnifica' is propagated from cuttings

Wow. I just changed the ratings and reviews. I also changed any negative reviews that were marked as "not an opinion" to opinions because the user has been removed and the review had to be removed as well. But, it's because the user has been removed, the item isn't any longer viewable from my profile, and I couldn't find the user on the site anymore. I had an explanation but I don't think I did a good job so I'm reposting. I understand how it can be a challenge for some people to change their thoughts on a product or service because they aren't allowed to. I've said this before but I guess I will say it again and I'm never wrong. I'm not. If I'm wrong then I will admit it. The difference is that no one else can see my right hand but you because you have chosen to share my thoughts. I always have the right to change my opinion. If you think I'm wrong then please provide evidence to the contrary. I have the right to change my thoughts and I will do that. To that end I've had several other people post comments about what my right to change my opinion was. Like I've said before, you shouldn't come to my page and tell me what my right is. I didn't invite you to my page. You came to my page and tried to force your way into my reality. I'm good with that. That's what you did. Oh well. It's my life and everyone has a right to live it the way they want. Again, I want to thank you for your feedback. No matter how good it is or how bad it is. It's given me something to think about. If you can't comment on my page then don't leave comments on my comments. I won't read them. I'm not all that concerned about what your feelings are about me because I know how you feel. I also understand that people's feelings are different, so it's best if you don't try to force yours onto me, lest you find it to be an uncomfortable experience. If you want to be part of my page, then share your thoughts. But, I'm guessing that you didn't. You left a comment on my post about the rating and reviews and that has to be because you felt something. Maybe it was a vindictive comment. Perhaps it was something you didn't mean to say. Perhaps your feelings were hurt. Whatever it was
