Q: Store a list in an AVRO datastore I'm trying to store a list in an AVRO datastore. I have a table that has a list of items (a few images) and a random ID for each. I'm trying to store each list item in a file called ItemTemplate.avro. The data looks like this: {"ID": 232443, "Item": "SomeItem", "Image": "someimage"} I have a (very rough) file that looks like this: # Some comments @load("path/ItemTemplate.avro") "List" = Record(); @param "ID" String ; @param "Item" String ; @param "Image" String ; @doc "somedoc" ; @doc "Some other doc" ; I thought it would be simple enough to create the datastore and have it add "List" records. datastore = CompletableFuture.supplyAsync() -> datastore).thenAcceptAsync(AvroDataStore::create); However, the first thing I do in the code that calls datastore.add("Item", "SomeItem") is to try to create the datastore. In other code, I have called datastore.containsKey("Item") and datastore.get("Item", List()) and both work. I have tested that the data is in the file by printing a list of the data objects and they all have my correct ID. It's just when I call datastore.add(...) and call datastore.containsKey("Item") and datastore.get("Item", List()) that I get an error. java.lang.ExceptionInInitializerError at com.typesafe.avro.test.Program.(Program.scala:39) at com.typesafe.avro.test.Main.main(Main.scala:12) Caused

The evening began with a round table presentation by Chris Trew of UK Games Network, talking about the importance of the videogame industry for the wider national economy. Andrew Turner gave an outline of the three years that the League has seen the number of participants grow substantially and James MacLennan-Buchanan of Jam Games, the organisers, praised the generosity of the companies that have sponsored the event. The evening then moved on to awards presentations and a closing speech from Kone's Chief Executive, Neil Kopper. Each of the games designers was awarded with a prize for their entries. The awards were presented by Andrew Turner, Pete Dennis and Danny Gray. The winner for the 'Best Reason To Play' award was the ever popular Candy Crush and the 'Best Art' award went to edd6d56e20
