Top 10 Films

1. Moana Only a film with an image of a moana can be considered a masterpiece in the land of the wind and the sea. Disney Animation this year has finally delivered a true winner in the form of Moana and the animators did an amazing job in developing this world of storytelling in which an outsider is accepted by a people and goes on to become the legend and the protector of a people. The acting is simply outstanding and the songs are catchy. The character development is extraordinary, and the film never misses to keep the audience engaged. The visuals and special effects are just stunning and the score certainly is a big plus of the film. I am sure this will definitely be on my top 10 of all time list.

2. Captain America: Civil War Bechdel test never been more than a virtue as this film has a female lead who has it all going on in the direction of getting a group of superheroes to agree to disagree. Although this is definitely not a comedy but in its own way it has all the elements of a classic comedy.

Tom Hiddleston as Loki is superb in his role and that's not all we have J.J. Abrams as a villain with the Avengers at his worst. The battle scenes are excellent and it is interesting to see how events unfold, particularly when Bucky gets killed right in front of Captain America's eyes. It is all about the actresses, and all of the characters have done the film proud but in particular Elizabeth Marvel as the Black Widow and yet another breakout performance by Paul Rudd as Tony Stark. 3. The Legend of Tarzan
