I want to combine all servers into one and that I can create views on that single database. The database is going to be shared among developers. I know that views are combined, but not sure how is that possible. Also, I am afraid that the size of the tables in that combined database may get huge. I want to combine them, so that I can create views on that single database and also I can use it with other clients. I was able to integrate the databases through linked
