This is the 4th entry in a series of six shorts, each of which tells an episode from Nick Beard's life. It opens up with Nick in the middle of his own personal nightmare, after rescuing a creature called "Thorus" from a mine in the Grimm. Thorus is attempting to make a full-body transition, in order to scale the wall to freedom. Nick feels partially responsible for this, having spent a great deal of time playing with Thorus as a child. The mine has a bigger problem than simply its sharp cliffs, however - it's also suffering from the demise of its caretaker. A large machine has appeared, towing several twine-suspended cars. It's aware of Nick, and moves to cut off his escape route. He is rescued by a group of machines called "Pawlocks", who have been hunting for a "predator" that's been terrorizing the mining community, and they manage to shoot down the machine. This is where Nick decides to change his name to "Chofy" (pronounced "chocky" by many people) and becomes a living version of the Laughing Man cartoon character. The group of machines, who are now affectionately referred to as "Chookies" (because of their smiling faces), take him into their care and help him free Thorus. Nick finds a complex machine on the way home, which was his father's invention. The machine appears to be studying some strange object, perhaps to see what it can glean from it. It ends up teaching Nick the phrase "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" from a book, though, after this, a rain of tiny robots descend upon the machine. The machines, now referred to as "Choppers", have been trying to teach Nick their language to help him in order to communicate. It looks like they've got Thorus under surveillance, but they still don't know what to do with him. Nick meanwhile learns that they don't really get very many visitors to their underground city, and the Chookies seek to save themselves and the rest of their race from extinction by killing all those who wander deep underground. They're known for having a very short lifespan, and the pods are designed to allow a Chookie to easily produce offspring. But Thorus, who has the ability to create androids, and the number of clones that he can produce, is not quite sure how many children the Chookies will produce.

They say you are what you eat. We believe in you. Just like you are to your body, you are to your soul. A healthy body builds a healthy soul, and vice versa, a healthy soul attracts a healthy body. It is very much like this that our foods are taken into our souls in order to bring quality and vitality to the body. The same spirit goes for the minds of people, what is known to the Western culture as 'Ego'. This is not the same as the true ego. Our ego is our pure or mortal soul, our self-awareness and our identity as conscious beings. It is our self-identity that connects us to the higher mind of God, who is the source of our connection to the spiritual world of creation. It is the power of this higher mind that is available at the level of a soul. The Ego is the lower level of self-identity. In fact this is the reason why people can achieve so many things but fail to develop spiritually. The Ego is very attached to the everyday routines, habits and repetitive actions of life that bring it temporary satisfaction. This is the meat we eat in this physical world, what our culture calls, 'ordinary life'. When we eat these foods that provide us with the necessary fuel for our Ego, we are unfortunately catapulted into the lower vibration of the physical world without knowing it. But when we fully connect to the higher Ego, we will then be catapulted into a natural connection to the higher life of the spiritual realm and the higher state of being; for the spiritual world and ourselves is just like the higher level of reality; it is higher in energy, with a deeper and constant awareness of being to being. It is a realm we are all capable of entering on a temporary basis. Anyone who wants to enter this realm must first separate themselves from the lower body, the ego. Spiritual development is a long, drawn out process, once you disconnect from your ego, and let go of whatever habit you are currently attached to, it will eventually rise up into the higher level of spirit. Some of you may say that you are more creative, or have great ideas, or exceptional memories. This is a sure sign that you are disconnected from the lower Ego level. You have disconnected yourself from you. Taking in 'ordinary' foods, and living from that form of consciousness you have in your mind become a permanent state of

In August 2015, Chinese regulators cracked down on digital currency exchanges amid concerns the currency could be used to fund capital outflows or terrorist attacks.
