Summary

1.It is a game in which the player lives the story of a teacher in a very small school in which the lively dorm was filled with many girls and their concerns about after they leave that school are accepted by adults... And I am one of those students!

2.I thought that the player would be able to use the school as a first love or just practice and live in fun. I do not just want to exhibit my girls... and such as in the above, I will explain that further!

Although it seems like it has a simple concept, it was actually very difficult to execute! In particular, for "Play" to "use hot girls" instantly. I had not even been able to imagine what can be done with such varied characters after all!
