Read on to see if you qualify to use Photoshop Elements, and how to get started. What is Photoshop Elements? Photoshop Elements is a non-commercial version of Photoshop. It is designed to be a simple yet powerful software for creating, editing and editing high-quality photos and images. For some more info check out this page. It is not a replacement for Photoshop or Photoshop CC but it is a very good alternative if you are not keen on committing to Adobe's subscription services. Photoshop Elements is available for free from the Adobe website. It comes with both the MS Office and PDF versions installed. A New Starting Point There are a lot of alternatives to the Photoshop standard you may be accustomed to. If you are new to the world of photo editing, PS Elements is a great starting point for beginners. Photoshop Elements is much simpler than Photoshop and there are a lot fewer buttons and features, just like the designer dashboard for Adobe XD. If you use Photoshop and Photoshop CC, it will feel familiar to you as you can import and export files, move items, zoom in on images, move around canvas, adjust levels, apply filters, crop, etc. But don't be scared, you can get better, even professional looking photos and images with Photoshop Elements. You can easily import photos from your camera and lens, remove red eye, crop out background and remove blemishes from portraits. By adjusting the contrast, levels and saturation you can make your photos look a lot better. You can even create a collage of your favorite images, add in text and effects. Getting Started Adobe Photoshop Elements is straightforward to use. You are allowed three trial images, and you can create unlimited photo albums. There are tutorials on every aspect of the software, and they will take you through the basics step by step. There are many resources on the Adobe website to get help, even tutorials are available. You can also watch video tutorials from Adobe to learn how to use the software. Q: Missing Localizability.strings file for my iPhone app I'm having some troubles with an iPhone app I'm making. I was using a strings file for localizing the app (using the iOS6 API). I have for example: "bla" = "voolle"; and I replace "voolle" by "vrolle". The simulator works like a charm, but when I run the app on my device I receive the following error message: The following code has no localized versions: "bla", "bla1" So I do what is suggested in the error message: I create a Localizable.strings file with my "voolle" and "bla1" keys: "vrolle" = "voolle"; "bla1" = "voolle"; Now I run the app on my iPhone and all is well. But... where is the Localizable.strings file? I had this file on past versions of the app, and deleted it since. It's not in the xcode project folder, and the Build Settings says my app doesn't have localization support. I've read the following: Make sure your Info.plist file includes: "Localizations - English" "Localizations - French" And then: I delete the localizable.strings file and recreate it as an empty file. I run: InfoPlistPacker build And it's still empty. So I tried to run the app, and it said the same thing, that the app has no localization support. What is wrong? A: Turns out all I had to do was to move the code that generates the localization file from the controller's viewDidLoad to viewWillAppear. It must be loaded the first time the view is appearing, else it will not have localized. Not sure how I missed the red line on viewWillAppear in xcode since I would have just run the app on the phone in the simulator and it would have called viewDidLoad. 595 S.W.2d 175 (1980) Jimmy Wayne GRANFORD, Appellant, v. The STATE of Texas, Appellee. No. 61491. Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas, En Banc. September 24, 1980. *176 L. Aron Pena, Texarkana, for appellant. Jeff Duncan, Dist. Atty. and James DeAnda, Asst. Dist. Atty., Texarkana, Robert Huttash, State's Atty., Austin, for the State. Before the court en banc. OPINION DOUGLAS, Judge. This is an appeal from a conviction for theft. The record contains a certificate of the trial judge stating that it has been made to determine that the court has jurisdiction of the case, the defendant is entitled to appeal, and the defendant has waived the right of trial by jury. The appellant seeks reversal and a new trial. The appellant contends that he is entitled to a new trial because the court erred in not allowing his attorney to open and close arguments at the punishment phase of the trial. The appellant's attorney did not secure a court reporter and did not transcribe that portion of the proceeding. The attorney entered a notice of appeal, which failed to comply with Rule 30, Vernon's Ann. Texas Rules of Appellate Procedure, due to the fact that it was not accompanied by a statement of facts, or otherwise, as required by Rule 31(b). The appellant argues that the court reporter's failure to make a record of the punishment proceeding prevents this Court from reviewing the record of the punishment proceeding and protects him from any further proceedings. Our examination of the record before us persuades us that we have a record which may be used to resolve the issue on appeal. The judgment is affirmed.
