There is a new vegan mindset that has arisen in Silicon Valley, and it appears to be sweeping the land. Everyone has heard of the exponential growth of vegan-friendly companies that are pushing the envelope in product quality, ethical sourcing and innovation. But many companies are still not vegan, even if they are just dipping a toe in the waters. We surveyed over 400 business owners, startup founders, and consumer-facing founders to get an idea of the current mindset in the Bay Area.
