Story Of Seasons: Pioneers of Olive Town
- Fox Headwear: New Feature: Player Photographer! Embark on a journey with Alice and Norman and acquire rare pictures of the characters that you haven't seen before. Use the in-game camera to take pictures of NPCs, which can be displayed on the event and party screen, as well as the message board. To create new content, look for the treasure chest icon in the pop-up screen, and click the "Player Photographer" button. This feature can be accessed on the upper right side of the game screen and consists of the following features: Image Collections - Select a character and view their costumes as well as their face and bodies. Select the desired character and click the "Player Photographer" button. Make Your Own Photo Collections - Select a costume and click "Make your own photo collection." A new menu will appear. Photo Collections are sorted by newest, then by image number, then by image quality. Add or remove images in the fashion of the in-game message board. You can also use the in-game camera to shoot pictures of yourself. Shooting photos of yourself will allow you to enter your own custom costume on your profile page. The following can be seen on the game screen, and you can find the menu by clicking on the lower right icon. Make a Fashion Trend? - Select the desired costume and click "Make my own photo collection." A new menu will appear. Set the Picture to Your Taste - The main screen of the message board allows you to see the favorite photographs of all users, and you can select your favorite image and click "Set my own photo." Q: .htaccess not redirecting to new domain My problem is that I have a website that is all indexed and everything but for some reason the .htaccess file is not redirecting.

I'm trying to figure out why but so far it's not working. There is a problem that causes it not to work but that doesn't get displayed when you use a notepad so it's quite hard to debug. Could it be that it's the fault of some other .htaccess file that is redirecting? What are the options for using .htaccess files with php variables? What's new in VHSoverdose:

Cell has been through a bit of a rough period. According to Nintendo, the Wii U version has been delayed twice now, and the 3DS game has yet to be released. Unless things turn around for Splinter Cell Blacklist in a big way, expect a bit of a break in the series for a while. There were hints at violence happening earlier this year in Splinter Cell: Blacklist's story trailer, but you can immediately see it's no Nightjar Mission. Pretty...put a hat on. On April 15, Tom Clancy's Splinter Cell will release on the Nintendo 3DS, arriving in stores before its June 20 release on the Xbox 360 and PlayStation 3. We spoke with Splinter Cell: Blacklist creator and series head writer Bruce Straley to find out what he's been up to, how he approaches the franchise, and what to expect from the latest installment of Sam Fisher. [Menus] Bruce Straley: Life has been really busy for me. In addition to these Splinter Cell games, I also wrote the next Star

Trek game with Peter Moore. That's right, huh? [Laughs] BS: We're halfway through, and we're excited about it. So I was occupied with that. But what's happening with the Splinter Cell series? Brink is doing really well. This is our fourth game in the series. We celebrated by making a video of all the Splinter Cell games. Looking back, we made Brink because our publisher, Ubisoft, wasn't happy with the story in Splinter Cell. Let's go to 3D. It's coming to Nintendo 3DS. Can you tell us how you've approached the 3D transition? BS: We chose the stealth approach for this particular game. That's right. I've played it and it's pretty good. BS: I think it's the most pure stealth game that we've done. In the end, the missions are linear? BS: Absolutely. All the missions are linear. But the player has several options with the environments. How will players be affected by the 3D? When I first played the game, I thought the 3D effect wasn't too bad. But when you

Inflator is a Platform Game. You play as an astronaut, who is floating through space on a reconnaissance mission. Your objective is to cross the Moon through a series of obstacles. This simple game really twists and turns around you. Non-linear gameplay throughout 30 levels with lots of different elements. Checkpoints and an overall Arcade-

Style. Shoot, Dodge and jump your way to victory! About this Game: Lost in Space 3D is a scrolling shoot 'em up, following on directly from Lost in Space. Set some time after the first Lost in Space, the robot, Robby is still on the run, and it's up to you to save the universe. Jump, slide and shoot your way through space stations, meteors, creatures and robots, until you reach the home planet and destroy the Menace once and for all! About this Game: This is an interactive game, where you play as an astronaut in an environment where the gameplay is built on top of a moving background. Level design is quite different from the normal 2D world. We have different environments with lots of small or big elements and puzzles to solve. About this Game: Brinstar is a game where you are in control of a cosmic ship. You are the captain, an explorer and an adventurer. You need to use your ship to explore the cosmos and collect new data. The game has a lot of elements from other games and genres. About this Game: Dragon Quest III is a role-playing game for the Super Nintendo, developed by Square and published by Enix in 1993. It is the sequel to Dragon Quest II. The events take place almost ten years after the second game. The gameplay is slightly different from the previous two games. The main aim of the game is not to fight monsters, but to find new recipes that can be used to make other foods. The player controls a character that travels to different locations and talks to other characters to find useful items. Then, when the food is used to craft a new item, it is usually used to make weapons or tools. The game is played from a top-down perspective. About this Game: In this game you are a member of an elite team of science and military experts, studying a new virus that has recently appeared. A group of scientists and soldiers are investigating a new virus called Anthrax, and they need your help. The virus is spreading all over the world, causing people to go mad and start attacking
