A: What you are looking for isn't a single IDM. On the other hand, this is perfectly ok if you are the developer of this app and that you are aware of the pending changes. This is only one of the points that will be changed to be compatible with the new API requirements. As already mentioned, download logic will be removed in the final version of the product. Unfortunately, the previous build already includes download logic accelerator in the new API bundle. So, it cannot be unchecked anymore. In this version, you will have four options: the built-in download logic accelerator, the download logic accelerator that is bundled with the previous IDM builds (you should uninstall it first) the built-in resume feature the download resume feature that is bundled with the previous IDM builds (you should uninstall it first) if you activate the built-in download logic accelerator, you will not be able to uncheck the download logic accelerator that is already in the new IDM build (be it the bundled one or this one). This is the only way in order to keep both downloads working. the activation of the built-in download logic accelerator is the only way to activate the new download logic accelerator that is already in the new build. You can do the following in order to uninstall the previous download logic accelerator: uninstall the new download logic accelerator hide the built-in download logic accelerator You should do the following in order to uninstall the previous download resume feature: uninstall the new download resume feature hide the built-in download resume feature You should do the following in order to uninstall the previous download logic accelerator and the new download resume feature: uninstall the new download logic accelerator and the new download resume feature hide the built-in download logic accelerator and the built-in download resume feature For IDM 6.17 Build 11 Final you have options v6.17 Build 3 Final [Eng | Esp | Fre] Edit: If you are using one of the 32db54285b Cloud Patch IDM versions released for IDM 6.15 (build 9), or if you are using one of the 64db54285b Extended Patch IDM versions released for IDM 6.15 (build 9), this applies to you as well.
