I like to use the WD Drive Serial Number Utility to get the serial number of each hard drive it finds. I also like to make a CD ISO image of the drive to make sure it's in good shape before I start reusing it. You may want to do this before you do all the other things listed on this page, but definitely do this before you open the drive to clean it. For more than 15 years, experts have been warning that a supervolcano eruption is overdue. But instead of living under the threat of an eruption, a group of people have decided to embrace the event as an opportunity to give back. On Saturday, March 20, Red Wolf Foundation will host their "Earth Day" event at Natchez, Mississippi to do some good, raise awareness, and spread the message of climate change and global warming. According to the Red Wolf Foundation, the group will be participating in the Mid-South Green Living Expo, which will be celebrating its 15th anniversary this year. The Foundation says that they will be paying special attention to the private industry sectors they are working with in hopes of creating a new movement to make a dramatic change. Red Wolf Foundation is hoping to advocate climate change awareness in local communities that can then be translated into doing something positive for the environment. Julia Roberts and Zoe Saldana will be touring the state to tell their story about why climate change and global warming are 1cdb36666d
